COMMENTS BY THE CEO

Halftime in the Covid-19 war

Q 2 has been better than expected.

W e entered Q 2 with great caution and concern, with closed stores and a digital business that ended Q 1 in a gloom. W e started seeing a small retail recovery already in A pril through great increases in web sales, making up for quite a bit of lost sales in our brick and mortars stores. In M ay the improvement continued and was also supported by improved brick and mortar sales. L ater in the month some markets like $G$ ermany and Scandinavia started showing some hope in Brands and G lobal sales as well. June turned in to a great sign of recovery for the E uropean markets in general, in all our businesses. This meant that for June al one we showed sales, in total, at last year's numbers and even like for like growth in some markets. It has been very evident that our business model has been a real strength for us in a crisis like this and our management and employees have really stepped up and performed beyond the call of duty. I W ANT TO TAKE THIS OPPORTUNITY TO THANK EVERYBODY FOR THEIR EFFORTS, UNDERSTANDING AND HARD WORK.

This quarter in my mind shows one of the best relative results we have ever shown given the circumstances. I am now so grateful for us having a bi annual process in which we update our emergency plan for crisis situations like this, which enabled us to, after adjustments to the specific situation, execute it directly in midM arch. This plan was based on assumptions that we would lose M E UR 16 in the quarter. W e are actually delivering an EBIT of M EUR 3,7 instead, while losing M EUR 30 of sales and maintaining our investment in IT and digital business. From a cash position we are well ahead of the game. W we have M E UR 84 in $C$ ash available and a net cash position of M EUR 62, which is far higher than the plan made in $M$ arch and better than 12 months ago. This has been achieved through our crisis plan, keeping costs and expenses under control focusing on sales channels actually open and recovering during the C ovid 19 crisis.

Regions/C ountries.

A s we have already stated the recovery have been driven by E urope, with some exceptions like the hardly hit UK. O ur A sia/P acific business has performed really good. South K orea and T aiwan businesses are performing better than last year and the distribution business has shown a good performance. C hina is however slower in recovering and we do not expect our JV in C hina to contribute any profit to the group this year. The only region that is lagging in recovery is N orth A merica which is more worrisome, but we are seeing improvements. It is slower and later and given the current C ovid 19 situation there it is still a cause for concern and the only country we are still having shops closed in, is in the US..I want to point out the N orth A merican team has done a great job, meaning that even though they did not reach the sales targets in our emergency plan they still were able to deliver a much better operative result than the emergency plan.

D igital.

O ne thing that has been and is key for us is the development of our digital business. The combined direct to consumer digital sales shows a growth of 79\% in the quarter. D igital sales stood for $40 \%$ (LY 20\%) of our direct consumer sales during the quarter, compared to last year 20\%. Digital consumer sales stood for $26 \%$ (LY 11\%) of the group's total sales up from $11 \%$ last year. We strongly believe that this has been at least a partial permanent shift which means a need to redesign part of our operations and that there is a need to increase the investment in skills, competencies as well in the organization.

W hat are we doing now?

W e are cautiously bringing back personnel to our shops to maintain service in our retail store, as well as keeping them safe. W e are partially and with great caution on a need basis opening our offices for work. We are continuing our strict cost control, but also have changed and will be changing some of our operations to better fit the "new normal". We have decided to restart our warehouse expansion in Ludwigslust, as this will enable us to centralize the distribution to consumers in this warehouse which is semi- automated to better handle the increased volumes, thereby supporting our digital business better. W e are keeping a close eye on the C ovid 19 development in our different markets, especially the N orth A merican development. W e have adjusted our purchasing and planning to enable us to minimize inventory risk and support our margin going into 2021.

T he rest of the year and beyond.

W e are not expecting that this is the end of the C ovid 19 crisis. W e do expect that the rest of the year will be hard. Uncertainties about the C ovid 19 in the US is a major concern, as is the president election in the same country. T here are al so risks in the rest of the world concerning a second wave. A nother concern is the general economy, what effects the crisis will have had and how long and when a real recovery will start. So far, the recovery has supported the hypothesis that our industry does have a countercyclical element to it, but if this carries into fall and beyond, we do not know yet. A nother cause for concern is the development in the C hina US relationship as well the H ong K ong situation and the effect it will have on the supply chain.

W hat we do think we know is the following: 0 ur business model is robust so far, the combination of brands and retail is good. T here is a permanent shift from brick and mortar to digital and that this means a major shift in the development curve. Shops in traditionally AAA locations like Soho in N ew York, M unich and central Stockholm etc. where tourism and thereby wider exposure due to heavy traffic will need at least 24 months to recover, if ever. Indoor malls are also a cause for concern. T his means that we have a couple of tasks to work on and invest in. Firstly, we will continue the expansion of our digital organization to capitalize on the shift as well as adjusting our brick and mortar operation to support this. W e also need to renegotiate the rent at all relevant brick and mortar locations to save operational costs especially in the central locations and be opportunistic and close those shops that do not meet the new criteria, as we believe we are not alone in seeing this. We have already been able to achieve this in some key locations globally. B ased on the C ovid experience so far, we are assessing our supply chain risk aiming to lower the risk and making it more flexible as well as improving our CSR control even further.

A s always, we are continuing to look for opportunities in these troubled times.

| Operating profit | Q2 | $2,6(8,0)$ | Q 1-Q2 | $17,6(27,2)$ |  |

The major part of sales drop is related to lower sales in North America, suffering longer from close down effects than the Northern Europe. The loss in profit has been limited by the cost saving program established for Q2.

Frilufts

|  |  | $2020(2019)$ |  | $2020(2019)$ |

| Operating profit | Q2 | $1,8(0,6)$ | Q 1-Q2 | $-9,6(-3,8)$ |

The loss in sales is limited to Germany. The Nordic retailers have been able to keep sales on LY year levels. The result is on same level as last year as a positive effect from the cost saving program, included governmental support for short term work, mainly in Germany.

Global sales

The higher loss for "Common services" is related to higher elimination of internal profit in stock and some major projects related to the streamline of different processes within the group. The Group's financial position remains strong. Consolidated cash and cash equivalents amounted to MEUR 84,4 (48,9). The Group's interest-bearing liabilities amounted to MEUR 22,1 (25,6). Lease liabilities amounted to MEUR 127,8 (97,2). Consolidated equity attributable to shareholders was MEUR 322,4 (281,4), corresponding to an solvency rate of $56,1 \%$ ( $57,8 \%$ ).
